

The European Forum
for the Arts and Heritage

Culture Action Europe is about how to make Europe work for the arts!

Culture Action Europe is an advocacy body for the Arts and Culture in Europe. Our job is to influence European policy for the long-term benefit of the cultural sector. We represent our member interests, we act as a source of advice and we work to raise awareness among policy makers as to the value of the arts and culture. Our long-term objective is to strengthen the role of arts and culture in the sustainable development of Europe.

We currently have over 80 members, representing more than 8000 organisations in more than 14 artistic disciplines, across Europe and beyond. Our members are from all domains - orchestras to writers, research institutions to cultural contact points, national theatres to international cultural networks, conservatoires to visual arts organisations.
